

FAQ FOR COMPANIES

Why should we work with the Inspired Aerial Views

Community? Our content providers are the best of the best from across the globe. Each content provider must go through a rigorous application process to be able to contribute to our stock portfolio. Additionally, each pilot goes through an even tougher vetting process with license and insurance requirements. We require this because we want to make sure you have access to only top quality photos and videos. If you can't find what you're looking for we will go out and find it or create it for you.

Why do prices vary? We let our contributors set their own prices. It is their work and we trust their judgement on what their material should cost. If you have a special request that isn't listed, reach out to us and we will do our best to accommodate.

What if I really like working with a certain pilot? If you really like working with a certain pilot or contributor feel free to use them every time you work with the Inspired Aerial Views Community. We actually encourage that you build relationships with pilots so you can understand each others styles and marketing needs.

What if I need a certain provision in a licensing agreement?

That's fine! IAV will work with you and the contributor to design an agreement that fits both parties.

Is there a monthly fee to search IAV's media? No, there is no fee right now. At the moment you are free to browse and pay as you go, but this is subject to change.

Where can I get more info about IAV or inquire about a drone job? Kyle Hulse is our founder and CEO; click here to read his bio and how IAV got started.
