

FAQ FOR MEMBERSHIPS

What is the inspired aerial views community? The IAV Community is an elite group of hobbyist and commercial drone flyers. Our community involves social media growth, a stock drone image portfolio, a learning center for drone flyers to share and improve their techniques, providing bios for pilots, a platform for hiring pilots for outsourced work, meetups for pilots, equipment of sales, travel recommendations for shooting, and feedback on photos.

Why should I use your stock portfolio for my media? A large variety of corporations are signed up to access our drone photo portfolio for their marketing needs. They are able to see your portfolio and ask to license or buy prints of your drone media at anytime. We allow members to set their own prices and control what they offer for each photo. We will provide you with all the tools to digitally license your work or print it as nice artwork for your clients.

How do I get hired as a pilot for a job? When a business is seeking a drone media creator, they will either choose you or will be sourced to you based on style and location of the shoot.

What is the pricing for this? We will take care of your schedule including any travel arrangements as needed and work to represent you well with the client. Just sit back and do what you do best: plan and envision your shot, and shoot!

What are meetups? Our drone content producers come from all over the world! So if you are traveling, it's encouraged to get to know other members from that area. Chances are there are other IAV members in your hometown anyways, so why not hangout with them to chat, shop, and fly? We are a friendly, supportive community helping each other grow.
